Williams, of New York, at the dinner table of the Governor of British Honduras, where Consul D. W. Herring was numbered among the guests, and made such an impression on Mr. Herring that he sent us a copy for publication.

MARRIED.

We acknowledge an invitation to attend the wedding of J. Mat Benton to Miss Nancy Miller, which took place in Memphis last Thursday evening. We distinctly remember that Mat was the first cash subscriber to the Courier, and we wish him a long life of wedded bliss.

We to-day, publish a letter from Representative Hanna in reference to the failure of county court clerks to collect the tax from whisky dealers. Two years ago Mr. Hanna asked the Legislature to appoint a committee to investigate the books of the internal revenue collectors to ascertain who had taken out license under the United States revenue law to sell whisky. This investigation revealed the fact that many dealers had paid the internal revenue who had not paid the state and county revenue. A committee of the same character was appointed by the last Legislature with the results given in the letter.

Another Art Craze.

The latest art work among ladies is known as the "French Craze," for decorating china, glassware, etc. It is something entirely new, and is both profitable and fascinating. It is very popular in New York, Boston and other Eastern cities. To ladies desiring to learn the art, we will send an elegant china plaque (size 18 inches,) handsomely decorated, for a model, together with box of material, 100 colored designs assorted in flowers, animals, soldiers, landscapes etc., complete, with full instructions, upon receipt of only $1.00. The plaque alone is worth more than the amount charged. To every lady ordering this outfit who encloses the address of five other ladies interested in Art matters, to whom we can mail our new catalogue of Art Goods, we will enclose extra and without charge, a beautiful 30 inch, gold-tinted plaque. Address The Empire News Co., Syracuse, N. Y.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Ross Academy Items.

The school at Ross Academy closed last Friday. So many of the pupils had stopped to go to work that it did not justify Prof. Watson to continue; everybody was pleased with him. We regret to lose the family of Mr. R. D. Davy and also Miss Maggie and Charlie Dadds. Edgar and Saint Paine came with their grandma Paine last Friday returning home Sunday accompanied by their brother George, who has been attending school here. A dance was enjoyed at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Brown Saturday night. Mr. John A. Brown returned from Clifton last Saturday. One day last week a fire broke out in a field where some men were at work and consumed four coats, two of which belonged to J. M. Paisley. Nemo.

Items From The Fork.

Rev. White preached an able sermon at Oak Grove last Sunday. The Reading Circle met at Mr. Allen Shaw's last Saturday night. Miss Jessie Ross and Mat Shaw entertained the club with recitations. Those who did not take part last meeting will be on the programme next meeting which will be at Rev. G. W. Seaton's next Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Higgins, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Wolfe, returned to their home near Adamsville Sunday. John Black left last Friday for Arkansas. Sidney Johnston left last Saturday for Alabama. I guess some young lady is heart broken.

Mr. James Herbert was in our vicinity last week. Mr. John and Miss Lizzie White were visiting at Mr. Shaw's Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Ida Ross who has been quite sick with typhoid fever is some better. Among those who called to see her last week, were Mrs. Nannie Paisley, Misses Sallie Walker, Caprice McDougal, Annie and Ella Broyles.

Mr. Harry Orr spent Saturday night at Mr. Seaton's. John Brown was in the Fork last week. LITTLE FRAUD.

Items From Sibley.

The farmers have been busy burning logs and breaking corn ground, this week.

The colored folks at Sibley are rearing their new college skyward. It will be 40 feet long 30 feet wide and two stories high, basement not included.

The Gravel Hill public school is closing out with a two weeks' writing school.

The Dale Wheel meets now every Wednesday night.

Mrs. Belle Wesson, wife of John Wesson, died on the 19th inst. of consumption. Mrs. Wesson was a daughter of A. L. W. Crumby, deceased. She professed faith in Christ during her illness and died fully satisfied that she was going to a better world. To the bereaved husband and little daughter and relatives we can only say, console yourselves with the blessed assurance that "She is marching now with angels Through the blue and starry sky Where she'll be crowned with laurels That shall never fade or die." Cymro.

Mrs. Tice Covey, Misses Lizzie Covey, Mary Dadds and Tollie Davy, of Ross, attended the dance at the Kendall House Tuesday night.

Several members of seventy-second Ohio regiment left Fremont, O., on the 28th to visit the Shiloh battlefield. They are expected to reach Shiloh the 4th of April and desire to meet all the ex-Confederate soldiers on the field that can get there.

The following beautiful poem was delivered in the Music Hall, Boston, Mass., by Miss Lizzie Doten, at the conclusion of a religious inspirational discourse. She disclaims its authorship, insisting that it is the composition of the now famous pen of the lamented Edgar Allan Poe, in spirit, it is composed as a sequel to "The Raven."

RESURREXI.

From the throne of life eternal, From the home of love eternal, Where the angel feet make music over all the starry floor, Mortals I have come to meet you Come with words of love to greet you And to tell you of the glory that is mine forevermore.

Once before I found a mortal Waiting at the heavenly portal— Waiting but to catch some echo from that ever-opening door; Then I seized his quickened being And through all his inward seeing Caused my burning inspiration in a fiery flood to pour.

Now I come more meekly human And the weak lips of a woman Touch with fire from off the altar, not with burnings as of yore. But in holy love descending, With her chastened being blending, I would fill your souls with music from the bright celestial shore.

As one heart yearns for another, As the child turns to its mother, From the golden gates of glory turn I to the earth once more; Where my soul was stung to madness, And life's bitter burning billows swept my burdened being o'er;

Where the harpies and the ravens, Human vampires, sordid cravens, Preyed upon my soul and substance till I writhed in anguish sore. Life and I soon seemed mistimed For I felt accused and fated Like a restless wraithful spirit wandering on the Stygian shore!

Tortured by a nameless yearning, Like a frost-fire, freezing, burning, Did the purple pulsing life-tide in its feverish channels pour Till the golden bowl, life's token, Into shivering shreds was broken, And my chained and chafing spirit leaped from out its prison door!

But while living, striving, dying, Never did my soul cease crying, "Ye who guide the fates and furies! Give! Oh, give me, I implore,— From the myriad hosts of nations— From the countless constellations— One pure spirit that can love me,—one that I, too, can adore!"

Through this fervent inspiration Found my fainting soul salvation; For, from out its blackened fire-crypts did my quickened spirit soar; When my beautiful ideal, Not too lovely to be real, Burst most brightly on my vision than the fancy formed LENORE!

'Mid the surging seas she found me 'With the billows breaking round me And my sad and sinking spirit in her arms of love upbore.

Like a lone one weak and weary, Wandering at the midnight dreary, On her sinless saintly bosom brought me to the heavenly shore!

Like the breath of blossoms blending, Like the prayers of saints ascending, Like the rainbow's seven-hued glory, blend our souls forevermore;

Earthly love and lust enslaved me But divine love hath saved me And I know now, first and only how to love and to adore!

Oh! my mortal friends and brothers! We are all and each another's! And the soul that gives most freely of its treasures hath the more;

Would you love your life you find it, And in giving love you find it, Like an amulet of safety to your heart forevermore!

CONCERT.

The colored people will give a concert at the A. M. E. church in Newtown to-morrow (Friday) night. The proceeds will be used to repair the church. Admission 5c and 10c.
